نیمسال دوم ۸۲-۸۳

Feeling tired, nervous, uptight? Take a deep breath. It's one of the most relaxing and energizing things you can do. Try taking a deep breath right now. Feel how new energy spreads throughout your body. Now exhale. Feel the tiredness and the poisonous substances leaving your body. Breathing is such an easy, natural, and healthful thing to do. It's distressing that most people do not know how to do it correctly!

Correct deep breathing is, sad to say, a lost art, and breathing is the basis of all normal activities for all living things; for human beings it is the most crucial. It affects our state of health, our mental condition, our very lifespan. We can live days without solid food, but we can live only a few minutes without air.

Primitive man did not have to learn the art of correct breathing. His lifestyle assured it. Fresh air, natural physical activities, and the struggle for survival with the elements made early man a good breather. Civilized man, however, lives a life far removed from all these components of natural life and physical activity. And one of the prices modern man pays for civilization is anxiety, probably the single greatest reason man has "forgotten" how to breathe correctly.

- Comprehension Check: Complete the following statements with the alternative which best fits each blank space.

- increases your energy
 - makes you nervous and uptight

 - have strange mental conditions
 - may live longer
 - are called artists

No one knows how language began. Because all people who are not handicapped have the ability to speak, language has probably existed at least as long as the modern human species. Most scholars believe that language developed very slowly from sounds, such as grunts, barks, and hoots, made by prehuman creatures. According to this view, a simple system of vocal communication became more and more complex as the human brain and speech organs evolved. But no one knows when or how this process took place. In fact, there is no record of language for most of its existence. The first real evidence of language is writing. But scholars believe that writing did not appear until thousands of years after the origin of spoken language. The earliest known written records are Sumerian cuneiform and Egyptian hieroglyphics from about 3000 B.C. Written Chinese dates from perhaps 1500 B.C., Greek from about 1400 B.C., and Latin from about 500 B.C.
